MISCELLANEOUS READING. THE BURNING MOUNTAIN.

As is generally known, there is a vein of coal located above water level in the Broad Mountain, about seven miles from this Borough, and near Heckschervill, which for twenty-one years has been on fire. The vein which contains excellent white ash coal, is some forty feet in thickness. The origin of the fire is attributed to a couple of miners, who, having some work to perform in the drift in the depth of winter, built a fire-they being cold -in the gangway. The flames destroying the prop timbers, were earried by a strong current, rapidly along the passage, and the fire communicating to the coal, all subsequent efforts to extinguish it were ineffectual. The men were cut off from escape, and were undoubtedly suffocated to death. Their remains were never found. A few days since we ascended the mountain at the spot of the fire, and were much interested in examining the effect of the fire Royal manufactories of Prague and Venice, con- upon the surface. The course of it is from west to east, and where the vein is nearest the surface, the ground is for the space of several hundred feet, sunken into deep pits, and Toilet ware, and solid resewood Work Boxes and while the stones exhibit evidences of having been exposed to the action of intense heat, every vestige of vegetation had been blasted. It is a desert track in the midst of smiling tertility. The ground in some places was almost too warm for the hand to rest upon it, while steam from water heated by the internal fire, rose from every pore. The fire has evidently extended for several bundred yards from the place it originated, and finds vent and air to continue its progress, at the pits to which we have alluded. A score of years has passed, still it burns, and will burn until further fuel is denied the devouring element . Thousands of tons of coal have undoubtedly been consumed, and thousands of tons may > REVIVAL AMONG STOCK BROKERS. It is stated by a correspondent of one of our subscribers that at the beight of the "Revival" in New York, a "changed man" of that "institution" applied to a poetic friend to write an appropriate bymn, to be sung at > the Board of Brokers. The whole hymn is not given, but the following is a sample of its penitential tone and desire of reformation:

That sink of sin, the Brokers' Board,

Visit in mercy, gracious Lord; Break thou their horns and draw their claws, That they may turn and fear thy laws. To the uninitiated it my be proper to menthat among the stock of brokers the terms bulls and bears are used, to indicate those who swear that stocks will go up and those who swear them down-the former working with their horns and the latter with their claws -. Charleston Mercury.
